What will happen next?

1. We will send you a letter acknowledging your complaint and asking you to confirm or explain the details. We may suggest that we meet or have a call to clarify any details.
2. We will then record your complaint in our central register and open a file for your complaint and investigate your complaint.
3. Our General Counsel, Beth Hale, will consider your complaint and will ask the lawyer(s) who acted for you to give her their reply to your complaint. She will then consider their reply and the information in your complaint file. Beth Hale will then invite you to a meeting or a call to discuss the matter.
4. If Beth Hale acted for you, (or if it is not possible or appropriate for her to consider your complaint for any reason) our Managing Partner, Clare Murray, or one of our other partners who has not previously been involved in your matter (the Investigating Partner) will consider your complaint in accordance with this procedure. .
5. We would aim to be in a position to be able to meet with you or speak to you within 14 days of first receiving your complaint. If you would prefer not to meet, or if we cannot arrange this within an agreeable timescale, Beth Hale or the Investigating Partner (as appropriate) will write fully to you setting out their views on the situation and any redress.
6. If a meeting or call does take place, within seven days of that meeting or call, Beth Hale or the Investigating Partner (as appropriate) will write to you to confirm what took place, our final position on your complaint and explaining her reasons and any solutions agreed with you. In appropriate cases we could offer, for example, an apology, a reduction of any bill or a repayment in relation to any payment received. The letter will also provide contact details for the Legal Ombudsman (which we also set out below) and explain about your potential right (depending on your status or that of your business) to contact them if you are not satisfied with how we have dealt with your complaint.
7. Further information about the Legal Ombudsman is available from www.legalombudsman.org.uk or by contacting them by post: PO Box 6806, Wolverhampton, WV1 9WJ; email: enquiries@legalombudsman.org.uk; telephone: +44 (0)300 555 0333. Please be advised that the Legal Ombudsman will only deal with complaints by members of the public, very small businesses, charities, clubs and trusts. Please ensure you allow us eight weeks to deal with your complaint before contacting the Legal Ombudsman.
8. Complaints to the Legal Ombudsman should be made within one year from the date of the act / omission complained of or within one year from when you should reasonably have known there were grounds for complaint. Any complaint should also generally be made to the Legal Ombudsman within six months of receiving our final response in relation to your complaint. Please note however, that the Legal Ombudsman will not accept complaints where the act or date of awareness were before 6 October 2010. If you are unsure about these time limits please call the Legal Ombudsman on +44 (0)300 555 0333.
